3. Introduction and Aim

The Children's Act 2004 aimed to ensure that the welfare of the child was paramount, working in partnership with parents to protect the child from harm.

The Children's Act 2004 supplemented the 1989 Act and reinforced the message that all organisations working with children have a duty in helping safeguard and promote the welfare of children.

All intentions of this policy endorse that aim as we endeavour to counter any adverse effects of bereavement and maintain pupils' emotional well-being.

The first point of contact with regard to bereavement will often be the Academy Office. They will then direct all communication to either the Family Liaison Officer and/or Headteacher.

4. Objectives

The core objectives of the policy are:

- To support pupils and/or staff after a bereavement and/or after a diagnosis of incurable illness of any person related to or impacting on a pupil or member of staff;
- To enhance effective communication and clarify the pathway of support between the academy, family and community, identifying key relevant staff;
- For families to recognise the impact of death and dying within the family or community and to promote open communication with school;
- To create an open and transparent culture regarding death and dying. To encourage all members of the school community to talk openly, according to need, about their experiences of loss and grief.

5. Procedures in the event of sudden death of a child

- Contact with the deceased's family should be established by the Family Liaison Officer (may delegate to Headteacher or relevant staff) and their wishes respected in communicating with others. Factual information is essential to avoid rumour and confusion, whilst being sensitive to cultural and religious considerations.
- Although pupils may have been made aware through other means such as social media, the Future Generation Trust's procedure is to inform staff before pupils.
- Staff will be informed before pupils and be prepared (through prior training) to share information with pupils in age appropriate ways as agreed for each individual circumstance.
- Pupils who are affected will be informed, preferably in year groups, by someone known to them.
- A letter to all families affected should be composed at the earliest opportunity and a decision made as to whom, and how, it should be distributed.
- The Academy should be aware that the school timetable may need a degree of flexibility to accommodate the needs and wellbeing of children affected by the situation. However, minimal disruption to the timetable also offers a sense of security and familiarity.

- Staff and pupils affected by the death will be offered ongoing support as appropriate (see Appendix 1).
- In consultation with the bereaved family, arrangements for funeral attendance may be clarified, with the consideration of full or partial Academy closure in some circumstances.
- Where necessary a press statement should be prepared by the Headteacher, with the Chair of the Trust Board and Local Governing Body being kept informed.
- The Academy should be aware that the impact of bereavement follows a child throughout their school life so information should be recorded and shared with relevant people, particularly at transition points.

6. Procedures in the event of sudden death of a member of staff

- Contact with the deceased's family should be established by the Headteacher (may delegate to Deputy or relevant staff) and their wishes respected in communicating with others. Factual information is essential to avoid rumour and confusion, whilst being sensitive to cultural and religious considerations.
- Although pupils may have been made aware through other means such as social media, the Future Generation Trust's procedure is to inform staff before pupils.
- Staff will be informed before pupils and be prepared (through prior training) to share information in age appropriate ways as agreed for each individual circumstance.
- Pupils who are affected will be informed, preferably in year groups, by someone known to them.
- A letter to all families affected should be composed at the earliest opportunity and a decision made as to whom, and how, it should be distributed.
- The Academy should be aware that the school timetable may need a degree of flexibility to accommodate the needs and wellbeing of children affected by the situation. However, minimal disruption to the timetable also offers a sense of security and familiarity.
- Staff and pupils affected by the death will be offered ongoing support as appropriate (see Appendix 1).
- In consultation with the bereaved family, arrangements for funeral attendance may be clarified, with the consideration of full or partial Academy closure in some circumstances.
- Where necessary a press statement should be prepared by the Headteacher, with the Chair of the Trust Board and Local Governing Body being kept informed.

7. Procedures in the event of sudden death of a family member or friend

- Office staff or the Class Teacher may be the first point of contact in the event of the Academy being notified of a child experiencing the sudden death of a family member or friend. Once they have been made aware they should notify the Headteacher and Family Liaison Officer at the earliest opportunity.
- Contact with the family should be established by the Family Liaison Officer or Headteacher depending on the wishes of the family. Factual information is essential to avoid rumour and confusion, whilst being sensitive to cultural and religious considerations.
- Family Liaison Officer to make regular contact with the family taking into consideration their wishes. This should be accommodated to meet the individual needs of the family.

- Family Liaison Officer to discuss with the family support available in school. E.g. nurture intervention
- Family Liaison Officer to liaise with relevant agencies supporting the child / family or refer the family to supporting agencies at the wishes of the family.
- Family Liaison Officer to share the wishes and feelings of the family with key members of staff and update them accordingly.
- Staff will be supported through training and resources to complete nurture sessions for pupils to manage their own wellbeing.

8. Procedures in the event of an anticipated death

- Contact with the family should be established by the Family Liaison Officer (may delegate to Headteacher or relevant staff) and their wishes respected in communicating with others. Factual information is essential to avoid rumour and confusion, whilst being sensitive to cultural and religious considerations.
- Family Liaison Officer to make regular contact with the family taking into consideration their wishes. This should be accommodated to meet the individual needs of the family, the Academy, and pupils. Therefore, can take place in school, at the family home (Two appropriate members of staff to attend.)
- Family Liaison Officer to discuss with the family support available in school e.g nurture intervention
- Family Liaison Officer to liaise with relevant agencies supporting the child/family e.g hospice care / Macmillan.
- Family Liaison Officer to share the wishes and feelings of the family with key members of staff and update them accordingly.
- Staff will be supported through training and resources to complete nurture sessions for pupils and to manage their own well-being.

9. The role of the Headteacher

- To ensure the effective implementation of this policy at their Academy.
- To liaise regularly with the Family Liaison Officer, as required.
- To respond to media enquiries.
- To keep the Chair of the Trust Board and the Local Governing Body informed accordingly.
- To implement bereavement support training and ensure ongoing training is available to all staff.
- To monitor staff awareness, wellbeing and confidence levels ensuring staff are fully supported as necessary.

10. The role of the Family Liaison Officer

- Under the direction of the Headteacher, to ascertain family wishes when death related news breaks (including diagnosis of incurable illness).
- To maintain contact with the family both by telephone and in person as is appropriate.
- To monitor progress and liaise with external agencies and seek outside support as required.
- To support a bereaved child's transition back in to school.
- To work closely with the family and key staff to identify and manage significant dates e.g fathers day, mothers day .
- To sign post families to relevant support networks.

11. Monitoring & Review

Implementation of this policy is the responsibility of the Headteacher and the Family Liaison Officer at each academy.

This document will be reviewed every two years by the Future Generation Trust Board.
